QUABOAG

1982

Colleen;
Wow! what a year. We've had more good times this year than any other. We've shared so much together that we've become the kind of friends that only last a lifetime. You are the only person I can trust with a personal secret. I won't say this Summer because you are such a major part of my life, you will! You are my best friend and I can't picture us not being together after graduation next year, but I'm sure we're going to stay in touch. Remember all the times we've been down, the other one has always been there for one another. Whenever we get angry with each other. I think maybe we're so close that we can never get angry with each other for long. We've been through a lot together. I hope you find a friend like you, because you are a great guy, don't lose all the world with me when I'm gone. I'll be back to see you! Hampton Beach most of all just being near you. There are so many memories of Thanks for putting up with me when I'm down, and being there to be the best friend, lover, best friend I've ever had.

Love,
Kert

P.S. Hampton Beach 1988

Colleen,
I don't even know you but from what you've told me about your nice family, your last year at Pinkerton Academy, and your plans for the future, you seem like a very nice person. I hope all your dreams come true. Good luck in the future.

Colleen,
Sorry to hear your parents didn't make it to your graduation. Maybe next time. Life goes on. Maybe you'll be more successful in life than your parents. Anyway, I'm sure glad we've become friends. Have a nice summer, maybe I'll see you in the fall.
Yours truly,
Jean

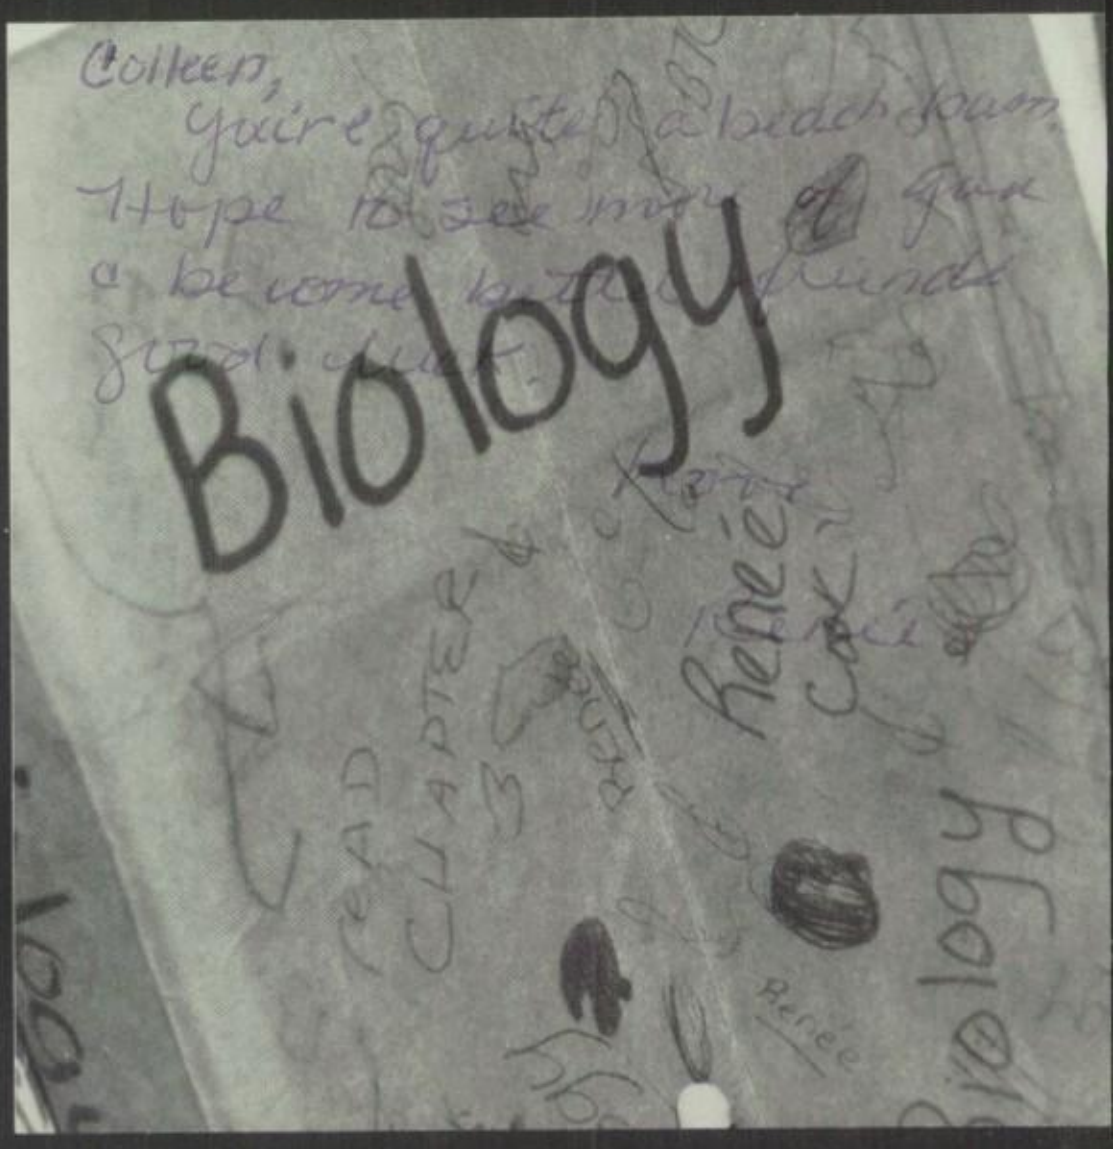
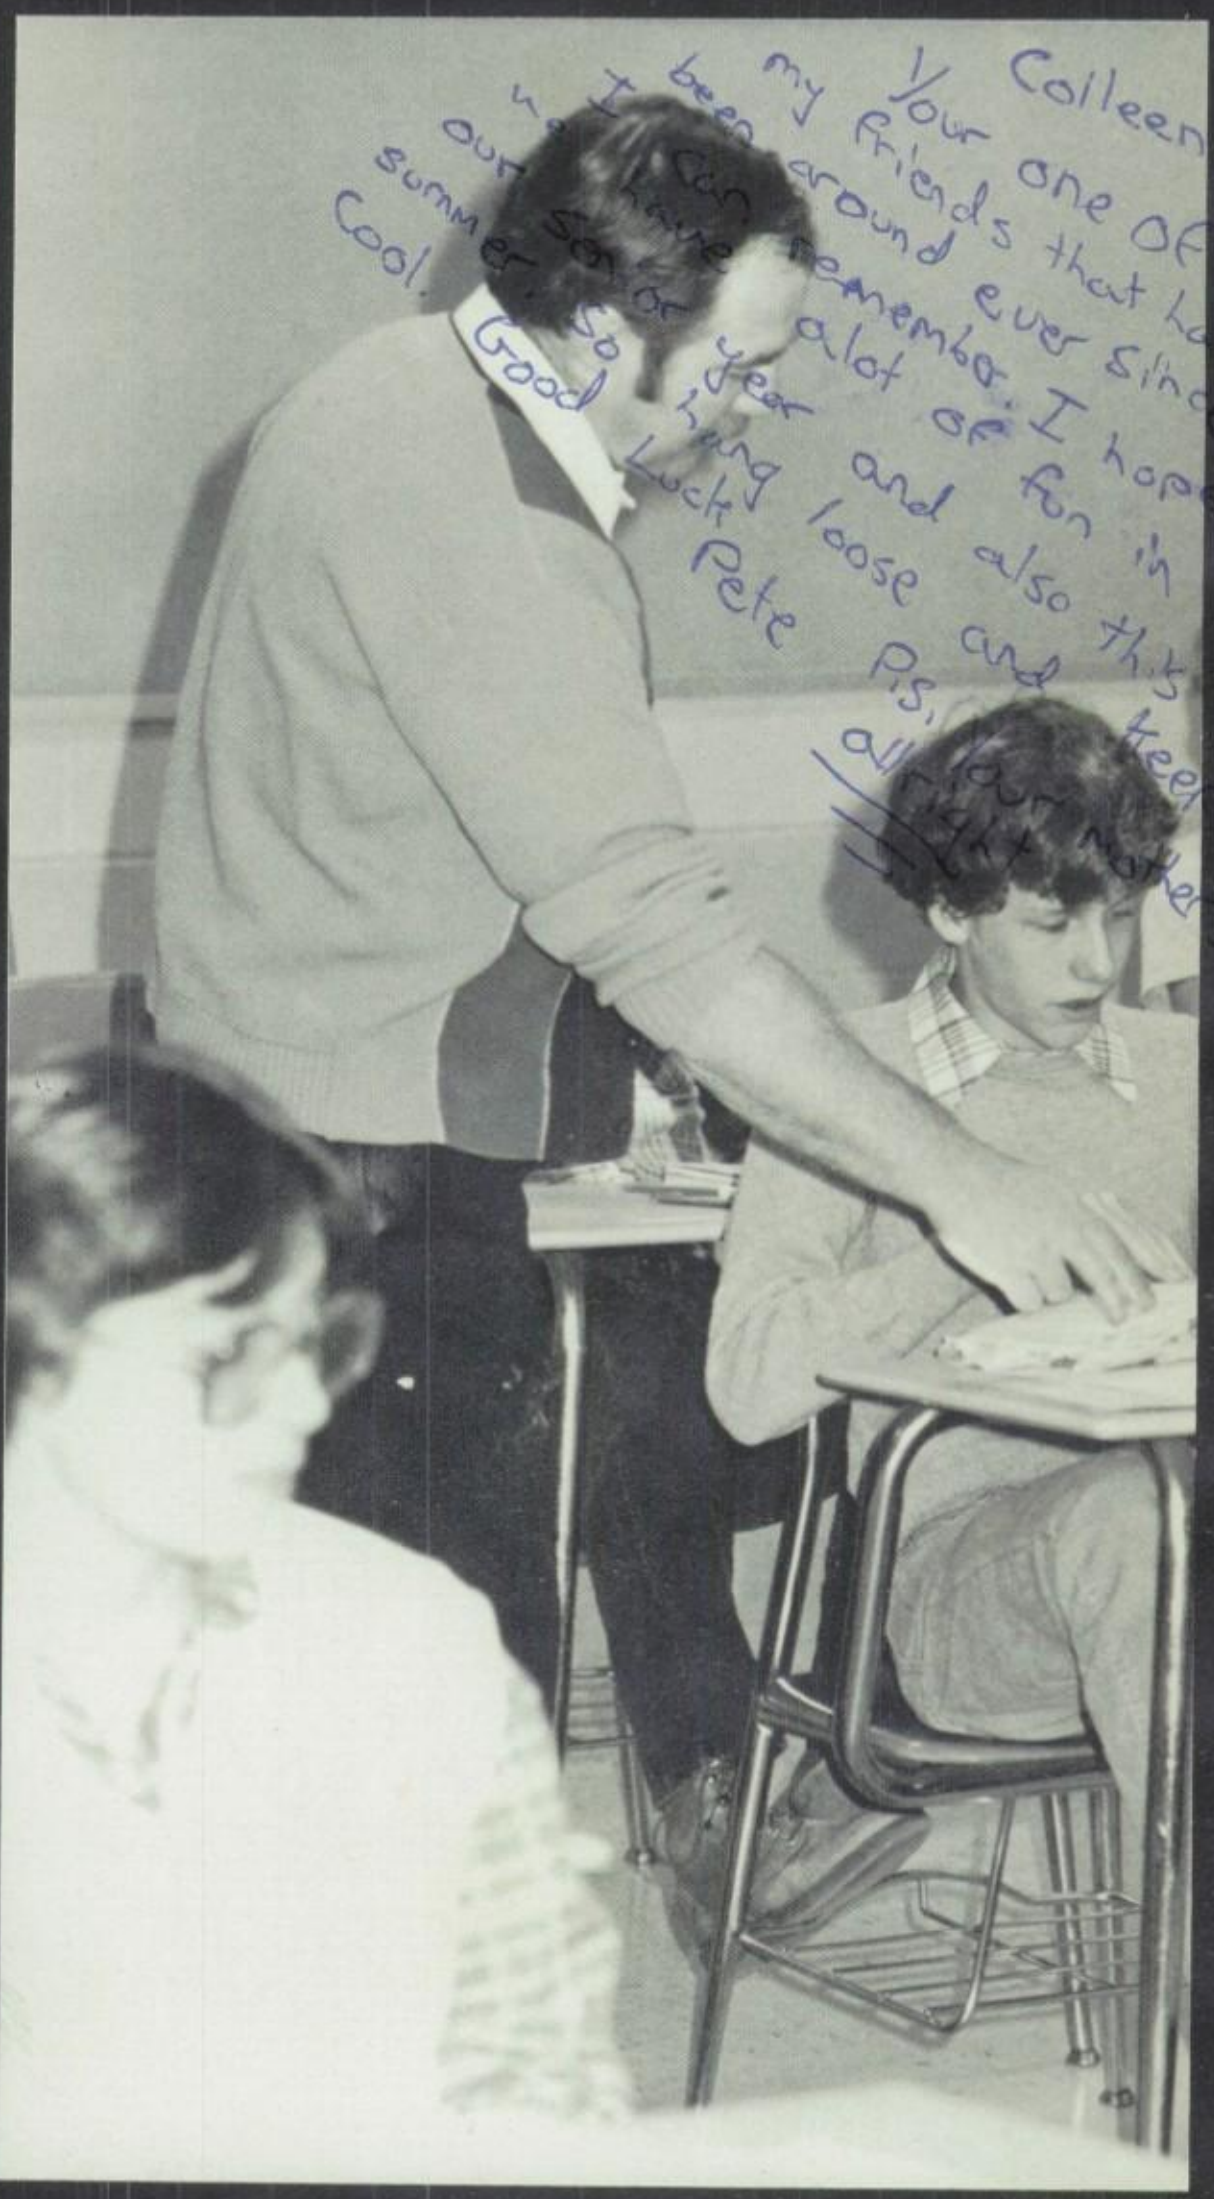
This, my goal for the past twelve years
Is what I've waited for
And now I take my last look back
At the school to which I come no more.

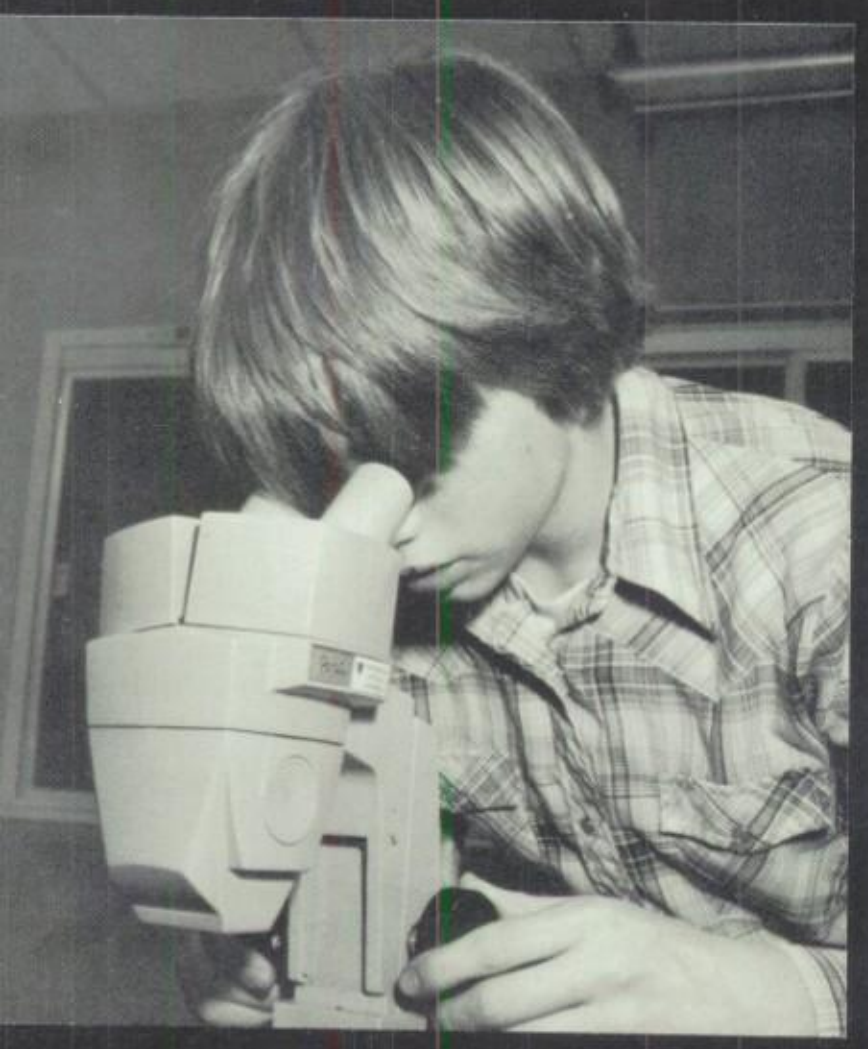
As I recall the past years at Quaboag
I remember constantly loosing pencils and pens
Trying to find a bookcover before my next class
Forgetting my combination again.



Learning a "new math" our parents couldn't understand
Spending a whole history class talking about current events
Science labs that never did what they were supposed to
English grammar that made no sense.

I, also, remember fire drills
Having to stand outside in the freezing cold
The many early morning bombscares
That we once got five days in a row.



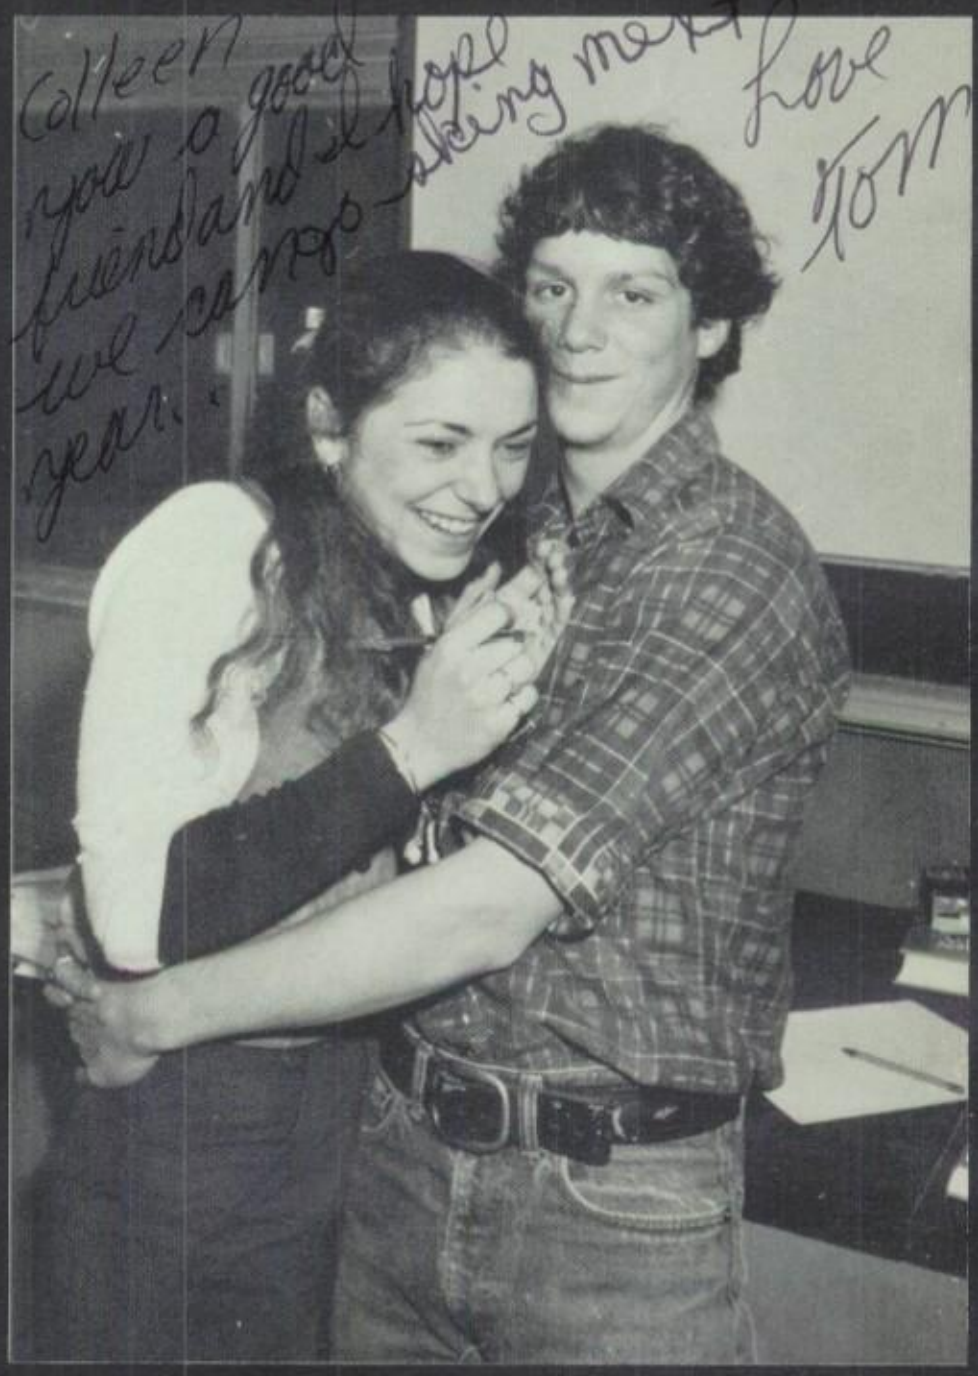


Seasoned events and sports all year round
School spirit, class pride, and fun,
Fund-raising to buy bands for dances
Getting all dressed up for the Junior Prom.

The days were laced with fun and games
Along with my growing up
I've developed a personality
I've had to measure up.

The large circle of friends that narrowed down
To the one or two I am closest
Going out and exchanging class rings
With the loves thought were the best.

I'm going to miss my classmates
And the teachers' constant calls
I'm going to miss the notes and such
We passed along the halls.



Not only on tests and with teachers
I had to make it with my peers
And now that the struggle is over
I feel like shedding tears.

Soon these years will be only memories
Like a pair of washed out blue jeans
That are too small and tight to fit into
I must go on to bigger and better things.

With my diploma comes a sad thought
my adolescent years are gone—
now I must face reality.

Sometimes I like running and you've had enough, take a break for a while and think of other stuff!
School is lots of books and smelly socks, letters, notes and friendships, sometimes fast, sometimes slow, sometimes brains, friends and people games. Sometimes low. Lots of eyes and sometimes nasty fights, sometimes right and sometimes tired is heavy

O.K. Who's the wise guy who put the glue on the meter stick!

Come sit by a mountain stream with me
Watch it race lower and lower,
  Bubbling over and around rocks
Singing Nature's melody to the trees,
  And to the grass and flowers,
They are all so content to fill their own purposes,
  To be satisfied with what they've got.
Yet, live onward and upward:
  To complete and improve.
Listen to the wind that blows
  Through the trees.
It whispers your name
Beckoning you—
  While chanting to the stream's lullaby
"Come join us, live in peace".

Not now, I'm all wrapped up!

APOLOGY

This is one, maybe two, three.
I haven't let you be
The king of person you are to me.
I've stifled your growth, a lot.
And maybe covered your world,
  Like a great big dot.
I've stopped you—
Manipulated—
Confused—
Abused.
Not that I won't again,
Just because I know where I've been.
Able to give and able to let live
The beautiful person you are to me!
I feel I've hurt you
I was cruel
Now I'm sorry.
Forgive?
But I know why
I don't let you fly,
I don't want to say bye!
I can't live
To myself
To yourself
So fly, be, become
The kind of person you are to me!
It's because I'm afraid
  Of being made
  To grow up this year, next.
Yes, it's true, me afraid
Self righteous me, pushy me
Persuasive, get my way me.
I know you must understand—
  As we've traveled the same land.
I think you must be Fed up with me.
I am, sure am, I am
  So, I say damn
  The old me
Let's fly together
  Forever
  Your friend.

MY DREAMS

My dreams are made of sand, I fear,
They are only made of dust.
At any instant they might disappear,
And yet they are a must.

LIFE

Some people are always happy.
Some people are always sad.
At least that's what they show. Most people are both
And some are mediocre. Most like me have a mask
In which they like to hide. Some of us go out and get Fried, that's the thing to do, man ya know. Then there
Are those with materialistic minds another sick thing.
You can't own the world. You can only own things.
Things that are no use to you after this life.
These are but three things that last, faith, hope and Love and the greatest of these is love. Concentrate On improving your ability to do these three things for These are all that you are.

I AM ALIVE!

I'm afraid to laugh
I'm afraid to cry
Afraid to love
And afraid to die

Afraid to let go
Fearing what I may lose
But then again
I have to choose

I would love to laugh
I would love to cry
Love to love
And love to die

Yearning to find myself
Wanting to hide
Searching somewhere in time
Wanting some peace of mind.

Yes, I see you laugh
I see you cry
I see you love
And I see you die

You're afraid to let go
You're afraid to be Afraid to let go and trust in me
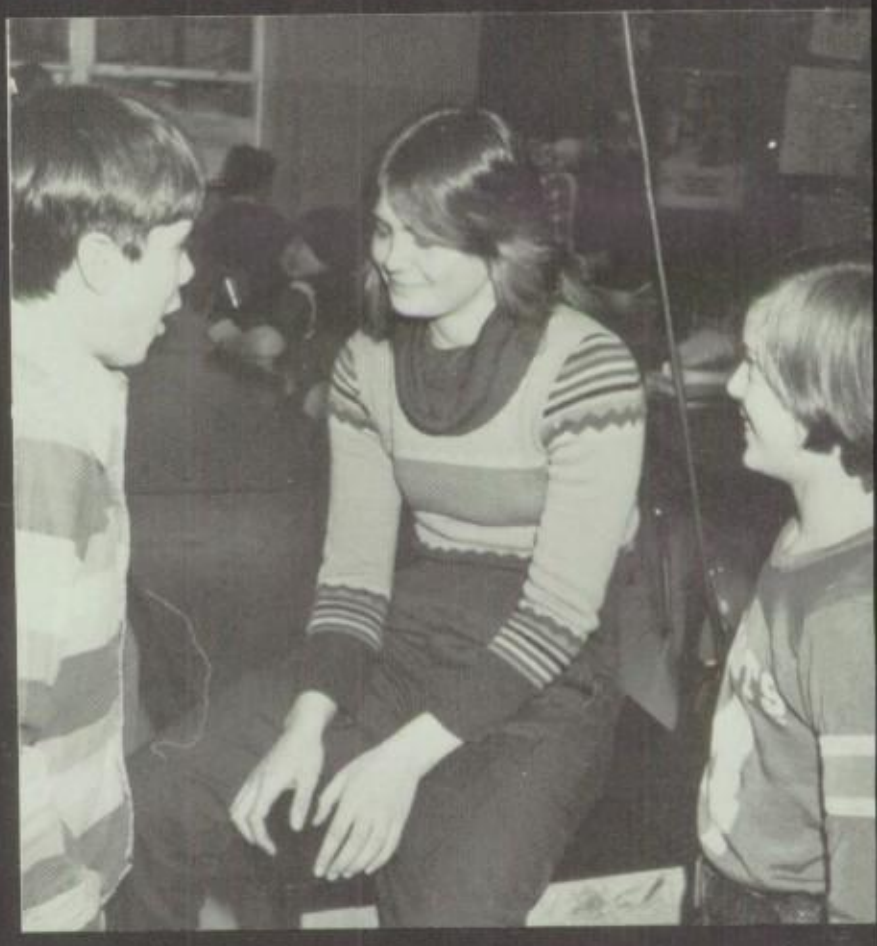
Believe I will help you see.

How to laugh
How to cry
How to love
And how to die

How to be yourself
Just as you were meant to be
Alive in me
Alive in me
Yes my friend
I am alive!
Vicki



This, my goal for the past twelve years
Is what I've been waiting for
And now I take my last look back
At the school to which I come no more.

As I recall the past years at Quaboag
I remember constantly loosing pencils and pens
Trying to find a bookcover before my next class
Forgetting my combination again.

Learning a "new math" our parents couldn't understand
Spending a whole history class talking about current events
Science labs that never did what they were supposed to
English grammar that made no sense.

I, also, remember fire drills
Having to stand outside in the freezing cold
The many early morning bombscares
That we once got five days in a row.

Seasoned events and sports all year round
School spirit, class pride, and fun
Fund-raising to buy bands for dances
Getting all dressed up for the Junior Prom.

The days were laced with fun and games
Along with my growing up
I've developed a personality
I've had to measure up.

The large circle of friends that narrowed down
To the one or two I am closest
Going out and exchanging class rings
With the loves thought were the best.

I'm going to miss my classmates
And the teacher's constant calls
I'm going to miss the notes and such
We passed along the halls.

Not only on tests and with teachers
I had to make it with my peers
And now that the struggle is over
I feel like shedding tears.

Soon these years will be only memories
like a pair of washed out blue jeans
That are too small and tight to fit into
I must go on to bigger and better things.

With my diploma comes a sad thought
My adolescent years are gone——
Now I must face reality.

Thanks Met!

Colleen, Tuna-Face, Hash, etc., etc.,

Well this year has been a pretty hectic one for both of us, but we've managed to pull through one way or another. Sim. glad we've gotten to be such close friends. Thanks for all the times that you've listened to me when I was really depressed. You've given me some good advice when I needed it too. Never forget all the crazy times that we've had, and I'm sure (absoulutely positive!) that there will be more to come. That would be pretty funny if we did work at ITAC again!! Well Iguinately get together this summer and have a good time. Good luck with everything you do.

Take Care,

Love,

Colleen,
This past year we've gotten to know each other much better. This summer we'll all have to scream it to the beach someone! You're a very unique person, and I hope we will become even closer friends in our Senior year.
